

STATEWIDE TRANSPORTATION IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

The Statewide Transportation Improvement Program, or STIP, is Virginia’s federally required, four-year transportation improvement program that identifies those transit and highway construction and maintenance projects that will utilize federal funding, or for which federal approval will be required.

The STIP includes:

- ❖ all federally funded and all “regionally significant” transportation projects
- ❖ multimodal projects (highway, passenger rail, freight, public transit, bicycle and pedestrian), and
- ❖ projects on roadways in Virginia’s National Parks, and National Forests.

The STIP must include all projects in an MPO TIP (Metropolitan Planning Organization Transportation Improvement Program) as well as projects in non-MPO areas.

Federal regulations require each state to produce a STIP at least once every four years and must:

- ❖ demonstrate financial constraint – to show that a state is not scheduling more transportation projects for construction than it has funding to support; and
- ❖ certify that a state’s transportation program conforms to federal air quality regulations.

Federal regulations require each state to produce a STIP at least once every four years; however, Virginia updates their STIP every three years to ensure the program never lapses. Virginia’s STIP is based upon the state-required Six-Year Improvement Program, or SYIP, which is updated annually and must be approved by the Commonwealth Transportation Board. All projects in the SYIP that are eligible for federal funding are included in the STIP.

Virginia provides many opportunities for the public to provide input on transportation projects and priorities as part of the continuing transportation planning process for the development of the SYIP and STIP. These opportunities include: federally required public involvement for each MPO’s TIP, participation in Fall

Transportation Meetings, and participation in public meetings on the SYIP held each spring.
